TRIBUTE TO DR. GODFREY

The following editorial clipped from the Bridgeport Post is a tribute to one of Norway's distinguished summer guests and who was a friend to every camp dweller around Lake Pennesseewassee.

It is with a shock that Bridgeport realizes the death of one of the most distinguished men who ever made this city his home. The passing of Dr. Charles C. Godfrey leaves a gap in the community which no other individual can fill. Physician, surgeon, man of public affairs, eminent scientist, honored in many fields, and well beloved friend to all who had the privilege of knowing him, the fact of his death cannot dim the brightness of his memory.

The outstanding feature of Dr. Godfrey's life was that keen and penetrating intellect which from the days of his boyhood until the close of his career never faltered, never stumbled, never lost its fresh and youthful enthusiasm for the exploration of human knowledge. Whatever touched life interested Dr. Godfrey, and wherever the eye could see or the mind could fathom a secret, in the complexities of the atom or the boundaries of the universe, he delighted to explore.

Whatever he did, he did well. If he took up a study, he mastered it. If it was necessary for him to delve into another study in order to illuminate some obscure field of the object in hand, he mastered that too. This in some degree may account for the remarkable variety of his attainments and the extent and nature of the scientific fields which he explored, but not even his closest friend can explain how he found time for it all, and the unflagging energy and enthusiasm which were with him to the last. For he was no recluse, but a busy physician and surgeon, and if he loved science it was because he loved humanity best of all, and science is humanity's servant. He gave the best in him to the service of others and the more he gave the more he seemed to have.

It is hard to realize the death of such a man for there was something in him that was vital, like life itself. The word of science will bow its head in tribute, the closer community which knew him as a friend will grieve. The master of many fields has passed to another one.

HISTORICAL PAGEANT

The pageant to be presented at Oxford County Fair, the evenings of Sept. 13, 14, is shaping up smoothly under the direction of George Limerick of the John Rogers Producing Co.

The performance will be staged beyond the track near the vaudeville stage and that space brilliantly illuminated by special lighting effects. All costumes worn will be models of the dress of the periods represented in dances, marches, pantomimes and dramatic situations.

Most interesting will be the early history of Oxford County enacted. Norway and South Paris churches, lodges and clubs have furnished nearly 300 men, women and children to perform in this pageant. Norway-Paris Band will assist.

Five vaudeville acts on the stage will be given in conjunction with the program.

NORWAY NURSING SERVICE

The Executive Board of the Norway Nursing service held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the office of the Community nurse, who made the following report for August:

Nursing care was given 9 patients during August—these 9 received 34 visits. Ninety-four other visits to homes were made on many of which health instruction was given and health literature distributed. The leaflets on Mental Hygiene have been distributed in the greatest number. Nutrition material runs a close second.

Interest in Well Baby Conference grows We close the month with a total of 24 infants, 34 pre-school children under supervision. The largest conference in the village, numbered 19. For the 8 conferences which include 3 at Norway Lake and one at the Swift's Corner school house the attendance totals 36 infants, 41 pre-school children and 11 school children. Twenty-three others who begin school this year have come for weight and measurement. Apparently there are in Norway at least 300 children below school age. On the second day set for seeing pre-school children, 10 were brought, on the third day 5. Six others have come singly, a few of the records sent the doctors have been returned indicating that a very small number of the children have had the medical examination. This health measure has been carried out in some other places by the Parent-Teachers' Association under the name of the Summer Round-up of the Children. Under the plan used examinations of all the children to begin school in September are made in April or May thus allowing sufficient time to make correction of most of the defects found before the new term begins. It was hoped in spite of the newness here of the work of the community nurse for a wider response. With those who have responded there has been found much intelligent interest in child health. In so far as possible it is the aim of the nursing service, in addition to giving care and treatment in sickness, to further individual and community health.

Calls for nursing care have been few. The care and treatment given has met in each instance a real need. Reported $6.75 earned during August. The local Red Cross Chapter responded generously to a call on the Loan Closet providing articles that added greatly to the comfort and convenience of the patient and that were greatly appreciated.

Some of the nurse's time goes to letter-writing. She has as far as names were available mailed postal announcement of the Well Baby Conference to the parents of children under five.

Plans for the small houses to be used in the County Fair Exhibit were drawn and they are now ready for use. Effort has been made to collect materials for demonstration of maternity and infant care. The posters loaned by the State Department of Health have been exchanged for others which depict lessons on healthful living. Miss Edith L. Soule, Division Director, has agreed to bring the department moving picture machine and show health films.

Miss Ricker of the Maine Baby Saving Society has turned over to Miss Davis the records for the children who attended the conferences she held. We appreciate this ready cooperation. In prospect of the annual meeting of the Maine Three-Quarter Century Club in Portland, the nurse arranged with the managers of the Norway and South Paris moving picture theatres for a showing of the film made in Augusta on the State House grounds.

On the return from the August staff meeting of the Maine Public Health Association, Miss Davis visited the Augusta office using the opportunity to secure needed supplies. The meeting of Somerset County Committee while not large was most interesting in content and especially for the participation of physicians.

Aside from the exhibit planned for the Oxford County fair the nurse will assist as much as possible with the Child Health Conference being planned by the Oxford County Maternity and Infancy nurse, Mrs. Jennie B. Hyde.

NORWAY WOMAN'S CLUB

The Executive Board of the Norway Woman's club met with the President, Mrs. Bertha S. Noyes, Monday evening, and the program committee outlined the program for the coming year, which sounds very interesting. Plans were discussed for civic work to be done. The first meeting of the year will be held October 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Haliburton Crandlemire of Torrington, Conn., left for their home, Wednesday, after spending their vacation in Norway and South Paris. Mr. Crandlemire formerly taught in Norway high school.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

Mellie Dunham called Tuesday to say good-bye before starting with Gram on a fiddling trip. They left by train, Wednesday for a pavilion at Worcester, Mass. and later Mellie furnishes music for a cattle show dance in Chatham N. Y. "Don't know as we will get back for Oxford County fair, as friends will be after us for a visit, when we get home we will be here" was his parting shot. Mellie has recovered from grippe of last spring and nimble as nature makes 'em near the Three-Quarter Century mark.

Perry Chapman, South Paris has livestock, harnesses, wagons, etc., listed in the Intelligence Column. He is a newcomer to this department, but realized that the column is read, and is using it to tell the folks about his trades.

George B. Lachance, Norway, is telling about antique clocks and other things in an Intelligence ad. George frequently contributes to this column and gets results and never hesitates to tell people about his sales.

C. S. Hamlin of Waterford made us a pleasant call, Saturday afternoon and said many nice things about the summer guests and campers in that town. Especially gratifying to the townspeople has been the church benefits given by volunteers from the camps and summer homes. But the act that appeals to the hearts of all was an entertainment given by Camp Tonoca in behalf of a blind man and his family. Over $100 was cleared. Chester Hammond and Ernest Paradis, printers with the Independent-Reporter at Skowhegan, inspected the back shop and met the boys, Saturday forenoon. Chester and his wife were up this way for a few days, visiting with relatives and friends in South Paris.

Carl Leighton of Lowell, Mass., called on us Saturday morning. Mr. Leighton joined a party of relatives Friday night, who have been camping for a few days at the Norway Lake camp ground till over Labor Day. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Miles Dauson and son, Robert of Beverley, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Edward Calkins and son, Wilbur of Tewkesbury, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Leighton and son Richard of Lowell, Mass. The Leightons were here camping for a week the first of July and say they don't expect to come again this year but surely plan to come another year. "No place like Norway to spend your vacation," says Mr. Leighton.

Dr. Maurice Thorner of Camp Truda, Pleasant Lake, Oxford, called, Saturday, with his pictures for cuts for the camp book which we will print. Naturally, the weather entered into the conversation. Dr. Thorner believes the abnormal fog, lowery weather and continual showers is due to radio broadcasting. This, he believes, is throwing out of balance the normal electrical or magnetic condition in the atmosphere. The Doctor eliminates solar disturbances as the cause yet admits that the sun may have a "hand" in it.

Spaulding Abbott raises mighty fine melons. A sample given to us was a dainty morsel and left a good impression of Spaulding and his farm. He said the folks at his place can't eat them, so he raises the melons just to see 'em grow. then plays Santa Claus to his friends in the village.

Stanley I. Perham of West Paris dropped into the office, Saturday, and left an order for paper and envelopes carrying the imprint of his Nature Shop. He sells minerals, birds' nests, gem stock and gems; in fact, he has a good sized collection of stuff to cheer the heart of a practical naturalist. He has been collecting for twelve years and is now in a position to enter the market where Maine specimens are in demand.

John E. Perrault of Portland, son of the late Eddie Perrault called at the office to make himself known. For years he lived near Crockett's bridge and the past three years he has been an inmate at the Maine School for the Blind at Portland. He carried a sample broom made in the shop at the institution. The work was equal if not better than some done by others with perfect eyesight. John was visiting with his grandfather, John Currier, at South Paris, and came over to Norway to hunt up acquaintances. His eyesight has improved during his sojourn at the school, in fact John has developed into an alert chap who had us guessing for a time

Arthur N. Record of the S. J. Record Co., was in Friday and paid for a bill of printing. He noticed our bouquet of gladiolus and said he would leave us one if we would like it. We assured him we would be very much pleased to accept them and he presented us a beautiful bouquet of gladiolus, of all colors and one particularly choice one, a Persia, (a black one.) All colors and varieties of colored gladiolus were represented and many mixed ones of rare hues. Mr. Record began raising gladiolus "for fun" at his home in Oxford and as the experiment proved satisfactory, he now has between two and three thousand and as many as ten thousand of the small tubers. He says he has a ready sale for all he can raise. He enjoys raising them and has good luck with them.

Newell Andrews walked from Bisbeetown, Waterford Tuesday to do shopping and talk over fiddling with Charlie Kimball. Newell leads Andrews' Orchestra in which a son fiddles, and a daughter is pianist. Other players "sit in" frequently. Mr. Andrews' family play by ear and are natural musicians. In contra dances they can discount most of the note reading jazz outfits and produce the goods that makes 'em step lively. In jazz they are not far behind but as Newell said, "The stuff is so complicated and without melody, we pass up lots of it for music with but little syncopation."

Del Pennock contributed, Wednesday, to our collection of lost or strayed articles. He handed in a Maine tractor number plate 414. Besides this we have another plate Maine X5-785, also a tank cap. A pair of lady's cotton gloves are also crying for their owner.

Rev. Olin B. Tracy of Skowhegan called Thursday morning. Mr. Tracy has been spending his vacation in New Hampshire with many side trips. Services will be resumed at his church, Sunday, after the vacation season. Mr. Tracy has made a good recovery after his operation and is ready to resume work.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden E. Day of Oxford, who carry on a large poultry farm had a busy season. One item has been supplying dressed poultry to the Poland Spring House. They have already sold one and three-quarters tons to the Rickers and the season is not over.

Lester V. Ashton says, "Tell the folks that the rubber game between Norway and Lisbon Falls is expected to be played at Oxford, Saturday, at 2:30 p. m. If plans go through as expected, dodgers will announce the fact." Norway lost at Lisbon Falls 4-1, Wednesday and a third battle on neutral ground is necessary.

George Parks brought in a key Thursday morning which he found in front of the post-office and it is at this office waiting an owner.

Returns From Europe

Miss Beatrice Stone Home From Two Months Travel Abroad

Miss Beatrice Stone, daughter of Frank P. Stone, arrived home Sunday morning from a trip abroad covering two months. She went with a party of teachers, one a cousin, who teaches at Gorham Normal school and another cousin, Miss Helen G. Russell, daughter of the Principal of Gorham Normal school. Four of the party remained at Oxford for study, while Miss Stone and Miss Russell traveled. They took the farthest north route, different from the trip of two years ago and saw many different places.

Landing in France, they went direct to Paris, and remained a few days, and took the trip through the Chateau country, visiting many old Chateaux. They were at Paris on the National Holiday and the midway was a reminder of Oxford County Fair. They flew to Brussels in an eleven passenger Bi-Plane, which made a quick and uneventful trip. They visited places of interest and went to the spot where Edith Cavelle was shot. From there they went to Bruges the ancient capitol of Flanders, a very quaint old sea port, and here they heard the fine old Carillon play the old Flemish tunes. The tower where the Carillon is located is one of the old land marks. From there they went by boat, to Ostend and thence to Dorn and stopped at Canterbury to visit an old Cathedral which was one of the finest they saw. In London they visited many places of interest, and saw the King and Queen and other members of the Royal family.

From London they went up the East side of England to visit many of the famous cathedrals, one at Eli, and spent a day at Cambridge, the University City. The Lincoln Cathedral was one of the beautiful ones, also those at York and Durham. On the way to Scotland they stopped at Edinburgh which they found very interesting, and went out to Trossacks and Lake Katrine; Melrose, Abbottsford and Dryburgh where Scott is buried. They noted the Yew trees and the cedars of Lebanon. The sun shone while here and was appreciated after many rainy or cloudy days, and the stay was interesting there.

From there to Inverness by train and they took the Calidonean Canal trip which takes a whole day and is the farthest north of the trip. The sun shines, or it is light until ten o'clock at night. On to Glasgow and Loch-Lomond, and to the English Lake country all of which is intensely interesting. They stopped at Grasmere and say the "rush-bearing" observance—an old time custom originated hundreds of years ago, before floors were built in the churches, and the rushes were brought annually and laid for a floor. Now, instead of rushes, the children carry flowers, many of them set pieces. A procession is formed through the village and the Bishop, and choir boys, etc., all join in, and march to the church and leave their offerings. Every child taking part is presented with a new penny or a bun. Every year this has been observed, with never a break and the ceremony is most impressive.

The North of Wales was the next stopping place and they landed at Llandudno and from there took trips to Conway and inspected an old castle; took some interesting mountain trips, through some wonderful passes, and saw, also, David Lloyd George's home. The sea trip was wonderful with the water very opalscent and hard to describe. The heather was in bloom and much admired. In Shrewsbury, many old homes were of interest. Lintern and Lintern Abbey were interesting.

A day or two at Oxford was enjoyed and from there to Bath where they made headquarters for trips. They took in the Cheddar Gorges and Cheddar Caves, all very unusual. They visited Glastonbury Abbey where King Arthur is buried according to tradition. At Wells, they visited one of the most beautiful cathedrals, the choir or chancel of wonderful architecture. From Bath, they took a bus trip to Menehead and Lynton, the route taking them over a very steep hill, where they saw the ocean at one side and the moors on the other covered with heather. The yellow Gorse flower was prominent and combined with the purple heather made a beautiful sight.

From here they continued by bus to Clovelly one of the most interesting and unusual places visited. The city is built all on a hill and the streets are all cobblestones. Supplies are carried to the city over the hills by sleds dragged over the cobblestones, and by donkeys. Nearby is Lynton, built on a cliff and at the foot is Lynmouth and to get from one town to the other, the travel is by cable car. The passes are too steep to travel by foot. Exeter was the next place, and a beautiful cathedral was visited here. On to Torquay and Berryhead and Brixham where one sees the red cliffs and on to Salisbury where they took the car to Stonehedge and Salisbury, where they stopped at an old Inn, the "Old George," which has been in being since 1300. An attraction here is a large cat and a turtle that play together, but the day was rainy and they failed to entertain the travelers. From Salisbury they went to Winchester and visited another of the wonderful cathedrals, and to Great Hall and saw the "Round Table" of ancient fame.

They stayed at "Old Hostile of God Begot" a famous Inn and left there for Southampton to sail for home. Ice bergs were sighted which was thrilling. The route was the farthest north, through the Straits of Bell Isle.

The trip home was unusually rough for August but Miss Stone did not miss a meal and saw everything that was of interest along the way. So many unusual places, not visited by the usual traveler, were visited, that the whole trip seemed unusual and despite much cloudy weather, was wonderfully interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Paine of Worcester, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Small and son, Kenneth, of Southbridge, were week end and holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene L. Hutchins at the Falls. Mr. Small is a brother of Prof. Maurice H. Small, who was principal of Norway High School for a number of years in the early '90's.

Miss Leona M. Sloan left by automobile for Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., where she teaches school. She was accompanied by Miss Arline Bessey, who has taught for two years at South Paris, and has a position in New York state.

Elsid Mattor closed his engagement, Saturday, at the A. & P. store and is employed at the Cloverdale. He will soon become manager, taking the place of Maurice Gould, who goes to Buckfield to take charge of the Cloverdale there.

Lesson for September

SOLOMON DEDICATES THE TEMPLE

LESSON TEXT—I Kings, chap. GOLDEN TEXT—I was glad they said unto me, let us go house of the Lord.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Worshipping God's House.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Temple Love for God's House.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Love for God's House.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Value of God's House to Community.

The first task of Solomon after his coronation was the building of the temple, a privilege which was denied to his father, David. In his petition for this task he secured the help from King Hiram of Tyre, who sent the foundations from the Phoenician skilled workmen also from Hiram. It was located on Mount Moriah (II Chron. 3:1). The greatness of this place was due to the fact that the Lord had appeared unto Abraham. Its dimensions were sixty feet long, 30 feet wide, and 45 feet high. It contained the brazen altar, the laver, the golden candlesticks and the cherubim. The dedication of the temple was arranged to take place on an auspicious time. The dedicatory services consisted of:

I. Bringing Up the Ark (vv. 1-9).

The ark of the covenant was the symbol of Jesus Christ. God dwells among men through Jesus Christ (John 1:14). The ark was God's holy dwelling place. This, therefore, must be brought first and placed in the temple as the manifestation of the divine presence was the real dedication. Then the house of God was to be dedicated as the king arranged for a representative gathering of the people, consisting of the elders, princes and heads of the tribes. There were many great men present, but only the priests, who were appointed ministers, moved the ark. The fatal experience of Uzzah in David's time was doubtless clear in their minds. Solomon profited by the blunder of his father. Connected with this service was a very great sacrifice, one in keeping with the occasion. The ark with the two tablets of stone under the mercy seat shows God manifesting Himself to His people on the ground of a law perfectly kept and since atoned for by the shed blood. At the completion of the sacrifice, the temple was filled with the glory of the Lord.

II. Solomon's Address to the People (vv. 12-21).

He points out to the people that God had chosen David to be king, and for certain reasons He would not permit him to build the temple, promising that his son should do the work. Now that the work was done, the temple was built and the ark of the covenant was in its place, they could be assured that God had raised him up and the room of his father.

III. Solomon's Dedicatory Prayer (vv. 22-53).

The ark having now been placed in the most holy place, and the attention to the people being ended, the king pours out his soul to God in prayer. In this prayer Solomon gratefully acknowledges God's goodness in the past, giving glory to H'm, and recalls that His promise to his father had been fulfied (vv. 22-26); he prays that God's eyes might be continually open toward the temple which He had now taken possession of (vv. 27-33); so that in case of contention between neighbors He would judge between them (vv. 31-32); (2) in case of being smitten by the enemy, even though the people had sinned, upon confession of the name of God would forgive and restore them (vv. 33, 34); (3) in case of famine as a chastisement for sin, upon confession and prayer before the temple, God would forgive and send rain (vv. 35-36); (4) in case of pestilence and sickness, if they pray to God toward the temple, God should hear and forgive (vv. 37-40); (5) in case of the coming of the foreigner who comes at the name of God's greatness, and prays toward Jerusalem, his prayers should be heard (vv. 41-43); (6) in case of going out to battle, their cause should be maintained (vv. 44, 45); (7) in case of being in captivity because of sin, God should hear their prayer and restore (vv. 46-53).

IV. Solomon Blesses the People (vv. 54-61).

On the strength of the covenant promises, he invokes His presence always with them to keep them faithful and exhorts the people to have their hearts perfect before God, walking in His commandments and statutes.

V. Solomon and the People Offer Sacrifices of Thanksgiving (vv. [illegible]).

B. F. SPINNEY NINETY-FIVE

Honorary President of Security Trust Company of Lynn Quietly Observes Aniversary of His Birth

At ninety-five years of age, Benjamin Franklin Spinney is in good health considering his advanced years. In celebrating the anniversary of his birth, there was no special celebration. Only members of the family were present at a birthday dinner and Mr. Spinney welcomed a few callers. Hundreds of messages from all parts of the country have been received.

Mr. Spinney is honorary president and a member of the board of directors and trustees of the Security Trust Company of Lynn, with which organization he has been associated for more than sixty years. He is a former president of the bank and is well-known in both Lynn and Boston banking circles.

He was born in Taunton on Sept. 1, 1832, and at an early age went to Lynn, where he has resided the greater part of his life. Mr. Spinney first entered the shoe business and then became affiliated with the Security Trust. He married Miss Sarah Stetson Caldwell of Taunton, who died several years ago. He makes his home in Lynn with his son, Frank C. Spinney.

Mr. Spinney's long connection with the shoemaking business in Norway is one of the important items in this town's history. He was the first manufacturer to open a factory in this town, and for many years was the head of the business here.

SCHENK FAMILY REUNION

In spite of rain that caused a change in the program, the gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schenk on Pike Hill, September 1, was a success. The corn roast was omitted, but the large barn was opened in the evening for games and the family reunion. Toasted marshmallows and roasted frankforts were served.

Among the guests were the employees at Norway Laundry, others making up the party were Mrs. Carl Schenk, Mrs. Alice Adkins and son, Harlow, Edwin Barker of Everett, Mass., who is Mrs. Adkins' guest, Mr. and Mrs. Babbett of Fitchburgh, Mass., Miss Hazel Rines of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Schenk and two children of Bayonne, N. J., and Stanley Shord, who came with the New Jersey people, and Robert Schenk's family.

Mr. Shord came from London, Eng., about four months ago so the trip was all new to him, and he finds Maine quite interesting in comparison with his own country.

Mrs. E. F. Lemon and children, Anna and Harry, of Waltham, Mass., have been spending a few days with her sister, Joseph Crooker, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Richardson of Laconia, N. H., have spent the past week with his sister, Mrs. Mary Bennett, Maple Street.

The families of Harry Judkins and Edwin Glines enjoyed a holiday trip to Middle Dam from Saturday until Monday night. They camped near the landing and Sunday went, by boat, to Ed. Coburn's place to visit Celestine Judkins, who is doing office work at the camp. They had good weather except for a heavy thunder shower, Saturday night.

Norway had a quiet Labor Day. Business was practically suspended with a small army of vacationists out of town enjoying beautiful weather, which followed weeks of showers and raw winds. Ball games in the morning and afternoon entertained the stay-homes and brought quite a few from surrounding towns. Many not inclined to sports attended the movies at the Rex. According to reports Norway was well represented at the opening day of State fair at Lewiston.

Clement G. Hartley of Springvale and Ruth Downs of Sanford were married Saturday, Sept. 3, afternoon at the Baptist parsonage by Rev. G. Howard Newton. Mr. and Mrs. Hartley left immediately after the ceremony for an auto trip around the mountains.

Woodbury Russell is recovering from rheumatism adn able to walk out of doors for short distances. He has given up crutches after using them since the first of July.

Mrs. Raymond Morgan arrived from Michigan, Saturday night. Rev. and Mrs. Morgan are keeping house in the Congregational parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. Christie Rennie of Cotuit, Mass., were callers at Edwin Richardson's, Monday. They were returning home from a trip around the mountains.

Rose Holt of Fairfield visited a number of days with her cousin, Mrs. Fannie Frost. They, in company with Mrs. Frost's sister, Mrs. P. C. Greenleaf of Otisfield, took a trip to Waterford, Monday. They visited several interesting places and ate dinner on the bank of Mutiny Brook.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Cates of Bethel were callers, Tuesday, at Mrs. Ben Richardson's. They were on a trip to Mechanic Falls for a visit with relatives.

George H. Bennett has lumber on his lot for the second story to be added to his paint shop. He has built a shed on the rear with the help of Phil McAllister who will help on the building.

A. F. Jackson, Allen Hill, Oxford, has sold his pair of horses and called to stop his ad. in the Intelligence column. "Sold them the first week after the paper was out," he said. His ad hit the mark all right—why don't you try a shot through the Intelligence Column?

Early September Moosehead Lake Fishing

As Told by Our Special Representative

Have fished 12 1-2 hours on presumably favorable grounds and have caught nothing. In dooryard have seen a few break, but they didn't want what I had to offer. Water is too warm for the shoals and they are still in the deeps. That is the way I look at it. I have no competition—am the only fool fisherman here.

Kendall A. Sanderson, a Boston lawyer, is at his camps (Long-Farrington camps) and as yet hasn't found a fish.

Paul Coburn is at his camp in the Thorofare and says he hasn't got a fish in two months. I guess he doesn't fish much.

Theron Heald at the Thorofare Camps is too busy to fish and claims to have caught the last one in the lake. I doubt the truth of the statement.

Motor boats are going and coming all the time just the same as if fish were biting.

It will change pretty soon. When the water gets cooler fish will come in. They always have and this year will be no exception.

Am patiently waiting and working—that is casting a fly until I get tired.

Bill Meservey has had "a good season" as have most of the camp owners in this vicinity. August is the big month for summer guests.

Jack Bridges and the Mrs. tell us their business was the best ever. They operate the Beaver Creek Tenting Grounds near Prong Pond and have cared for several hundred tenting parties. Bridges took us to Sugar Island and we saw a half dozen tents on the grounds.

The flying machine is busy. Going about in the air somewhere every day. Doing what, we know not, except to distract our attention from fishing Expect to see 'em drop into the water or crash into the trees any minute. I hope they are making great addition to science, art, conservation and lumbering and will keep to the air and let us alone.

The Highland of Moosehead Lake has taken shape and expended heaps of money in the past three months. Some twenty miles of roads have been built, also a big wharf or pier. You can ride right to it and around it in an auto. Many lots have been sold and several houses built by pleased patrons who want summer homes in the blending of civilization and the wilderness. It certainly is a beautiful location. The scheme is good and will add much to the many attractions of this end of the big lake.

The Ply Wood Company have mountains of hardwood logs piled near their mills and have employment for more than 300 hands.

Regarding fish—I'm told the salmon hold a 5 day convention Sept. 15-19 inclusive at the Head-of-the-Island and adjourn to meet at the mouth of Squaw Brook the 25th to the 30th. If I can't attend other fishermen will be there and re-stock their fishing stories for the winter.

I'm going to Sourdnahunk where fish are supposed to be numerous, if not large. Haven't as yet given up the hope of getting a whale from Moosehead waters.

I trust Elgin Greenleaf will not read this as it will vividly bring to mind his painful trip into Magalloway before he took to dry-fly fishing.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

When Buick improves upon Buick —the standard for the year is set

Buick for 1928 introduces a higher standard of beauty and luxury than the world has ever known. Buick interiors are as modish as exquisite drawing-rooms—as harmoniously colored—and as comfortable. Buick's new Fisher bodies are low-swung without any loss of head-room or road-clearance.

And so, down to the smallest detail of construction, wherever refinements could be made, Buick made them. Again Buick has improved upon Buick. Again the standard for the year is set.

Camp Tonoca Benefit

Every year seems to bring a new [illegible] to our vicinity. This year it is Camp Tonoca on McWain Lake and [illegible] what has been known as the old Sawyer or Sawin place at Waterford. Messrs. J. A. Tomlin and Harry W. Norden are the owners and directors of the camp and like all campers had in mind some sort of a camp entertainment.

Both directors felt a general invitation to the community at large to attend an entertainment would not be large enough. A progressive supper which would bring their entertainment to the minds of many people, but would result in a sum of money gathered from the citizens. This brought up the question whether the directors, who desired to put on a show each year, wanted to make Camp benefit as the result of an evening's pleasure given to the community. Such a thing they felt did not really belong to their camp policy.

The result was that through their efforts and the efforts of the friends they had made in the vicinity, and the universal kindness and cooperation of the population in general, over 100 tickets were sold; about 100 people paid at the door of the Grange Hall at South Waterford, on the evening of August 20th the entertainment was given; ice cream and cake sold, and a net sum of $110. was realized.

The next morning our well-known [illegible] citizen, E. J. Kilgore, who has [illegible] moved from Bridgton to East Waterford was invited to Camp and with [illegible] ceremonies by the boys of Camp Tonoca was presented with the money they [illegible] so gladly worked for, and the townspeople had so gladly and willingly contributed.

Mr. and Mrs. Kilgore expressed the deepest thanks to the boys and their directors for the interest they took in [illegible] welfare, and also requested that the directors thank the citizens of Waterford and the surrounding towns for them.

The program of the entertainment which proved so great a success was as follows:

Camp Tonoca Benefit

[illegible]ans to bring a new camp [illegible]. This year it is Camp [illegible] Lake and occupying [illegible] known as the old Stone [illegible] at Waterford. Messrs. [illegible] and Harry W. Nordstrom [illegible]s and directors of the Camp [illegible]mpers had in mind some [illegible] entertainment.

[illegible]es felt a general invitation [illegible]mmunity at large to attend [illegible] would not be urgent [illegible] A progressive sale of tickets [illegible] their entertainment to the [illegible]y people, but would result in [illegible]y gathered from the city [illegible] up the question where [illegible]es, who desired to produce [illegible] year, wanted to have the [illegible] as the result of an evening's [illegible] given to the community. [illegible]ing they felt did not really be[illegible] their camp policy.

The result was that through their efforts and the efforts of the friends they had made in the vicinity, and the universal kindness and cooperation of the population in general, over 100 tickets were sold; about 100 people paid at the door at the Grange Hall at South Waterford, on the evening of August 30th; the entertainment was given; ice cream and cake sold, and a net sum of $110.85 was realized.

The next morning our well-known blind citizen, E. J. Kilgore, who has lately moved from Bridgton to East Waterford, was invited to Camp and with formal ceremonies by the boys of Camp Tonoca, was presented with the money they had so nobly worked for, and the townspeople had so gladly and willingly contributed.

Mr. and Mrs. Kilgore expressed their deepest thanks to the boys and their directors for the interest they took in his welfare, and also requested that the directors thank the citizens of Waterford and the surrounding towns for them.

Mrs. Charles Tuttle went to the Canton fair, Thursday, Sept. 1st. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crockett and daughter, of Oakland called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tuttle, Saturday, the 3rd.

A letter from Miss Hazel Burr, who was visiting here with Miss Helen Heredeen, follows: "The weary travellers reached home safely on Saturday night, and we certainly were weary. We drove 285 miles that day and it was pouring rain all the way from Portland. The cement road was like glass. I drove at least 200 of the miles and my arms and legs ached, you just had to keep your eyes glued on the road. When we reached Boston, it took us some time to get our bearings. I thought I'd never find Massachusetts Avenue; it got dark then and the next 40 miles was darkness and rain. Weren't we glad when we reached South Bellingham!

"Helen stayed all night with me and then we drove her home yesterday. Harold and Olive took us in his machine and we were thankful not to have to drive ourselves. We've driven 1,027 miles since we left home. That was pretty good for two girls.

"My little car looks like a wreck, it is so covered with mud. We had no flat tires, but my batteries were dry when I got to Eastport and I got low on the oil once; there is something loose in the engine. I'll take it to the garage and see if anything is the matter. We had a good time in Eastport after we got there, but it was a terrible rough, muddy road, and a whole day's travel there in the rain. Eastport is an island. We could look out onto the coast which was all dotted with islands, mostly Canadian islands. Thursday was a jewel of a day, all blue sky and blue water and bright sunshine.

"We had a delightful little boat trip across to Compobello, New Brusswick, and back to Lubec and Eastport. Friday, we drove on to Calais and St. Stephens, New Brunswick. Then back across to Topsfield and Lincoln, down that way to Bangor. It was a beautiful drive. We followed the Saint Croix river up to St. Stephens; then over Topsfield to Lincoln were woods and beautiful lakes, 17 miles of woods with not a house; in the distance we could see Mt. Katahdin (5,200 ft., it says on the map). We climbed some steep hills, drove 165 miles that day. We stopped at an Approved Wayside Station listed in our automobile guide, at Etna, about 12 miles out of Bangor. There was a spiritualist camp ground there. After supper we walked over to it and looked around, found a postoffice and some cards which we sent to the boys; went to a free entertainment at their so-called temple; and to a dance at the dance hall. They danced mostly old square dances; it was fun to watch them but we didn't stay long as we were tired. The girl whom I visited in Easnort is a minister. She preaches in a Methodist Church there and has always been one of my best friends. She was a Bellingham girl. We had a good time with her. Saturday morning, we got up awfully early, 5:20 Maine time; and left 6:30 Maine time; drove through Waterville and Augusta, Gardiner, Brunswick, down to Portland, saw the capitol in Augusta.

"Harold and Olive got home at quarter of five that Monday morning, they drove all night, stopped at Portland and Old Orchard.

"I enjoyed the trip to Maine, I should say we did, because Helen did, too. Guess we enjoyed tramping up the mountain the most. It was nice the boys could go with us, and they were so nice to us, we enjoyed them an awful lot. I hate to think of school next week, hate to have the summer ended, but all good things have to end, don't they? I miss Helen, I had a lot of fun with her.

"It has been rainy and cloudy today, so I thought I would write as many letters as possible and get caught up before school begins; so I will have some letters coming to me to cheer me up then."

It was some trip for two young ladies, who were former neighbors of the Bartletts, both in Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Sunday evening Roy Mason, Frank Cormier and Joseph Noonan called on Emerson Bartlett, they were on Black Mt., a part of the day, berrying, they were on the Mud Pond end of the mountain, these boys are from Rumford and work in the black ash department at the Oxford mill, where we rubbed elbows for many years.

Feel Tired and Languid?

Waste Impurities in the Blood Make One Dull and Listless.

Do you wonder why you feel so drowsy and out of sorts? Too many feel always tired, dull and achy. Too often the cause is sluggish kidneys that permit waste impurities to remain in the blood and cause one to feel dull and listless—to have a nagging backache and annoying headaches and dizzy spells. That the kidneys are not working right is often shown by scanty or burning excretions. Assist the kidneys with Doan's Pills. Users everywhere recommend Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

Get the Big Price for Your Hay

The quality of your hay determines the feeding value and the price. There is often a difference of from $4.00 to $10.00 per ton between choice hay and hay that grades No. 3. Increase your hay-land profits by air-curing your hay. Use a

John Deere Dain System Rake

Dain Features

- Inclined frame—extra capacity.
- Curved teeth, properly speeded—lift instead of dragging or kicking the hay.
- Flexible frame and reel.
- All adjustments made from the seat.
- Exclusive tooth bar construction.
- Either one or two caster wheels.

Air-cured hay is better hay. It holds its color. The leaves do not become brittle. There is little loss in handling. The hay keeps better in the mow, stack or bale, and is more palatable, more digestible and has greater feeding value. Whether you sell your hay or feed it; your profits are increased when you adopt the Dain system of making hay.

It does not cost you anything extra to aircure hay. You merely use a Dain System Rake.

The Dain System Rake is the best for this purpose. It is the easiest to operate, and you can handle the heaviest hay because, with the inclined frame, the capacity is the greatest where the quantity of hay handled is largest. And, remember, the curved teeth of the rake lift the hay instead of kicking it.

Drop in and look over the Dain System Rakes we have in stock.

We have given out quite a few Bay State Color Harmonizer Charts in the last few weeks, and frankly, I never appreciated their worth until one of our lady customers told us how it helped her decorate her house.

"A color may be beautiful in itself," she said, "and yet be the wrong color to use in a specific room, just as a white silk dress may be beautiful in a ball room and yet entirely out of place on a motor trip.

"The chart enabled me to select the proper colors for not only the walls, but also for draperies, etc. Thanks to the chart and that wonderful wall paint, Bay State Dultint, my home is now decorated in perfect taste. Dultint gives a velvety finish that is artistic, washable, sanitary, durable, easily applied and easily refinished."
